Boundless Playgrounds

*Playgrounds listed here are not located on school grounds and should, therefore, be available for use at all times.

Boundless playgrounds are built to be truly inclusive of all children and adults. Parents or children with limited mobility or other impairments can freely navigate around the structures and play areas. We are lucky to have three boundless playgrounds in our area. Trying out one of these playgrounds can be a learning experience for all children.

ACTON: SMILE Jones Field Accessible Playground, 54 Martin St., South Acton

Play is an essential component in a child's life. Play enhances language development, fosters cognitive and kinetic engagement, promotes physical wellness, builds self esteem/confidence, and encourages strong interpersonal relationships. For many children with disabilities, a playground also offers opportunities for ongoing physical therapy treatment. In Massachusetts, 18.9% of students in public schools are on an Individual Education Plan or 504 Plan. Of those students, 12.2% have severe disabilities. A fully inclusive playground benefits the entire community by allowing 100% of children to play, interact, imagine, experience, create, and communicate with each other in a welcoming, natural environment.
